Skills & Achievements

Adaptability

I remain calm under pressure and flexible in the face of change. I am quick to assess situations, adjust plans, and keep the production moving forward without compromising quality.

Leadership

I have held leadership roles throughout my academic journey, from representing student voice to the Students' Union to taking on producer and production managing responsibilities across multiple productions. I have also completed extracurricular leadership courses to sharpen my communication, decision-making, and team-management skills.

Innovative

Having taken on roles such as producer, editor, social media manager, and creative director, I consistently bring originality and problem-solving to every project.

Interpersonal Skills

I have developed strong interpersonal skills through working with diverse teams in creative and professional settings. Roles as producer for TV, documentary film, and other creative productions have strengthened my ability to listen, mediate, and communicate clearly across departments and with external collaborators.

Teamwork & Customer

Service

I have developed strong collaboration and communication skills through creative and customer-facing roles. From supporting upper-year TV productions and working with clients like Barclays to serving in hospitality and student ambassador duties.

Interests

- Filmmaking

I enjoy developing visual stories and leading creative productions. Particularly seeing what I imagine in my head come to life through narrative, aesthetic and visuals that leave an audience impact inspires me.

- Post-production editing

I am passionate about refining footage into compelling sequences. I am particularly interested in colour editing

- Behind -the-Scenes Content

I am drawn to the insights of what happens backstage of productions - capturing crew dynamics, setup processes, and the unseen moments that shape the final project.
